Collection Summary

Collection:	Amalgamated Engineering Union Archive
Name of creator(s):	Amalgamated Engineering Union
Reference code:	PAS/AEU
Dates:	1891-2001
Size of collection:	17 boxes; 1 object
Creator's history:	The Amalgamated Engineering Union was formed on 1 July 1920, through the fusion of The Amalgamated Society of Engineers and nine other engineering societies, who wished to form one big union for the engineering industry. The ASE was formed in 1851 and for many years after it was to be the "model" for all other British trade unions. In 1968 the AEU was renamed the Amalgamated Union of Engineering & Foundry Workers, and in 1970 the name was changed again and became the Amalgamated Union of Engineering Workers. The first Peterborough Branch opened in December 1852. Branch No. 2 then opened in September 1911, and Branch No. 3 opened in February 1914, followed by Branch No. 4 in December 1915. Branch No. 5 opened in July 1917, then Branch No. 10 in July 1916, Peterborough South Branch opened in January 1941, Peterborough East Branch on 23 Sep 1949, and finally Branch No. 11 opened on 23 May 1963. When the first branch opened there was a membership of just 8, and by 1892 the membership had only reached 108. The reason for this being that at that time Peterborough was mainly agricultural, other than the railways. With the arrival of firms such as Peter Brotherhood Ltd and Werner, Pfleiderer & Perkins Ltd, the membership increased, and with the First World War a need for more branches was apparent. Membership was at it's highest in 1944 with 3937, and after a slight drop it had reached a total of 3905 in August 1953. For a more in-depth history, see A.E.U.:History of the Peterborough District 1851-1954 by N Hillier (1954), available in the Local Studies Collection.
Archival history:	The majority of this material was donated to Peterborough Central Library in 1993. The material had been stored at the old city headquarters of the Amalgamated Engineering Union in Lincoln Road until its closure in 1992.
