Collection Summary

Collection:	Peterborough City Council Archive
Reference code:	PAS/PCC
Dates:	1790-1998
Size of collection:	288 volumes, 53 items and 1 bundle
Archival history:	Peterborough was incorporated as a municipal borough in 1874 and was officially known as the 'City and Borough of Peterborough'. There were important extensions of the Borough in the late 19th and early 20th centuries across the Nene into Huntingdonshire (Woodston and Fletton). Following its abolition in 1974, the new District of Peterborough, as the successor authority, applied successfully for city status and was renamed the City of Peterborough. The post-1974 authority also absorbed other local authorities in the surrounding area, including Thorney, Barnack and Peterborough Rural District Councils and Old Fletton Urban District Council. It also absorbed several parishes in the former Norman Cross RDC area (Orton Waterville, Orton Longueville and rural Alwalton); the City therefore inherited the surviving records of these bodies too. At a higher administrative level, the Soke of Peterborough County Council existed from 1874 to 1965. Local Government re-organisation meant that in 1965 Peterborough became part of Huntingdon and Peterborough County Council. Further administrative changes resulted in Peterborough becoming a district of Cambridgeshire County Council from 1974 to 1998. In 1998, the City Council (formerly the district within Cambridgeshire) became the unitary authority that we know today.
