A series of free lunchtime running sessions will make a return to Peterborough's city centre from May through to July.

The hour-long sessions give people the opportunity to put on their trainers and get active during a lunchtime break.

The runs will leave the Embankment Athletics Track, in Bishop's Road, Peterborough, every Wednesday from May 2 to July 4 2018. Everyone is welcome to attend and all abilities will be catered for.

The sessions take place from 12noon to 1pm and are overseen by a fully qualified England Athletics Endurance Coach.

Annette Joyce, Peterborough City Council's service director for environment and economy, said: "These sessions have been held for the past two years and have always been well received and attended, so we were very keen to run them again in 2018.

"The hour long sessions are suitable for everyone, even if you've never thought about taking up running before. The hour can be based on the athletics track with the option to run out further into the city centre if you want to stretch your legs a little more."

Running and exercise can be part of living a healthier lifestyle and residents can find out more advice on the Healthy Peterborough website \(http://www.healthypeterborough.org.uk/2018\).

There is no need to book in advance, just simply turn up with your trainers and running clothes.

Changing facilities and showers will be available at the athletics track and for further information you can email info@run4fun.co.uk.

The big running event of the year in Peterborough is always the Perkins Great Eastern Run.
